Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, The Great Ruler of the universe has in His infinite wisdom removed from our midst our worthy and esteemed brother, Geo. W. Crow, of Glade Springs Lodge No. 182 I. O. O. F. and,

Whereas, the intimate relation held with the members of this Lodge make it fitting that we record our appreciation of him, therefore,

Resolved, that the wisdom and ability which he has exercised in aid of this Lodge by council service and funds, will be held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved, That the sudden removal of such a man from our Lodge of which he has held leading positions, leaves a vacancy and shadow that will be deeply realized by all members of this Lodge.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy with the afflicted relatives and friends of the deceased, we express an earnest hope that even so great a bereavement may be overruled for their highest good.

Resolved, That these proceedings be spread on the minute book of this Lodge and the Clay City Times publish the same, and that a copy be sent the family of our deceased brother.

Grafting in Owen.

Forty-three indictments against men prominent in the affairs of Owen county were returned by the grand jury at Owenton, which has been investigating the conduct of county business for the last few years. The indictments charge malfeasance in office, perjury, mutilation of county records and the collection of illegal fee bills. The report of the grand jury goes deeply into the past records of the county, and every member of the Fiscal Court, including the County Judge, is indicted on charges of malfeasance.

The Louisville Herald to Award $10,000 in Prizes

Monday, July 1, The Louisville Daily Sunday and Weekly Herald inaugurated a voting contest, in which $10,000 in prizes will be awarded the women of Kentucky and Indiana. The plan adopted for awarding these prizes is the fairest conceivable, and no element of "luck," "chance" or "guessing" enters into the plan. The campaign is to be conducted along legitimate competitive lines, and every woman who enters the race will have an equal opportunity to win a first prize whether she resides in Louisville or a town of much smaller size.

The prizes offered by The Herald are the most liberal ever given away by any newspaper in the South. The capital prize of the $10,000 contest is $1,500 in cash. This large amount of money will be given to the woman who secures the largest number of votes in the entire contest, regardless of district limitations. As the contest runs but nine weeks, the winner of this prize will earn $166.66 per week for nine weeks.

Besides the capital prize there are two other grand prizes, consisting of two 1907 model automobiles. One of these machines is a brand new Aerocar, purchased direct from the factory for the express purpose of awarding it as a prize in The Herald's contest. The other automobile is a runabout model, valued at $650, brand new, with every modern improvement, backed by the manufacturers and the local agent. One of these machines will be awarded to a candidate in Louisville, the other to a candidate residing in Kentucky or Indiana, outside of Louisville. The candidate who secures the largest number of votes of the two automobile winners will be given choice of the machines.

The contest is divided into twenty-five districts. Each district will receive three prizes. The first prize in each district will be a free trip through the Eastern States, including visits to New York, Atlantic City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Norfolk and the Jamestown Exposition. Every cent of the expense of the twenty-five tourists from the time they leave home until they return will be borne by The Herald.

One of these free trips will, then, be awarded to the candidate in each one of the twenty-five districts who secures the largest number of votes in her own particular district. The number of votes accorded candidates in one district has no bearing whatever upon the number of votes accorded candidates in other districts. This equalizes the competition and gives every one who enters the race an opportunity to win.

After 14 years of suffering from rheumatism J. R. Skidmore passed away at the home of his brother-in-law, W. M. Shimfessel, on Little Creek, Thursday, July 11th, and was buried Friday afternoon at the McKinney burial ground. He was 65 years of age and has been a member of the Methodist church for a number of years. He died happy and prayed for his friends to all meet him in heaven. He leaves a wife one sister and a brother besides a host of friends to mourn his loss.

A precious one from us has gone,

A voice we loved is stilled;

A place is vacant in our home,

Which never can be filled.

J. B. Haggin, the millionaire owner of Elmdorf, of Lexington, has sold his entire 1906 burley tobacco crop, amounting to 150,000 pounds to the Farmers' and Shippers' Warehouse Company, of Cincinnati, at the reported price of 15 cents a pound. Delivery will commence Monday. This is one of the largest and finest crops in Kentucky.

The second and third prizes in each one of the twenty-five districts are a gold watch and a business college scholarship in the order named. These prizes are in keeping with the main awards, and those who secure these secondary premiums may rest assured that they have got full value for the effort put forth in the contest.

How to Enter the Race.

All that is necessary to enter The Herald's contest is to send your name and address to the manager of the Contest Department, together with the names of one or two reliable parties who live in the vicinity. Another way to enter the race is by clipping out a few coupons, published daily in The Herald, filling them out properly and sending them to the Contest Department of The Herald, Louisville, Ky.

Every Woman Eligible.

Every woman is eligible to compete in this contest who is a respectable white resident of Indiana or Kentucky, and between the ages of fifteen and fifty years. Send in your name at once if you desire to compete, as the race only extends over a period of nine weeks—July 1 to August 31, inclusive.

How to Get Votes.

Votes may be secured in The Herald's contest by clipping the coupons from the daily paper, which count as one vote, and are only valid one week, or by securing subscriptions for the daily, Sunday and weekly Herald, and having such subscriptions paid for in advance. A new yearly subscription counts for 2,400 votes; a new six months' subscription counts for 1,600 votes, and so on. Full information on this point may be learned by reading The Herald or writing the Contest Department for particulars.

Enter Now.

If you are eligible enter this contest at once. You may win the capital prize of $1,500 in cash or a brand new $2,000 automobile. If you are not eligible enter the name of your wife, mother, sister, friend, relative or sweetheart, as the case may be, and help her win a prize. It will cost you nothing to nominate a candidate. And it costs a candidate nothing to try for one of the prizes. Now is the time to get busy in this gigantic contest. You may never have another opportunity to get such valuable prizes for so little effort. Enter the race before some one else in your locality gets all the votes you are depending on. To enter the contest simply send your name and address to the Contest Department of The Herald, Louisville, Ky. and you will receive full information upon every point of the race by return mail.

Coalite is the latest novelty in the fuel line. As made in Newcastle, by a process similar to that employed by the gas companies for the production of coke, it makes no smoke and gives off, it is claimed, about twice the heat of coal, while a coalite fire lasts 40 per cent longer than an ordinary coal fire.
